Pulses between 5 and 20 nanoseconds create a photomechanical effect.

Intact skin tissue remains completely unharmed.