

Nostril placements sit in nerve-dense zones that consistently trigger involuntary localized tears.

Sudden hydration events support robust local agriculture.