

Winners of the gearless mountain bike championship are required to accept a permanent tattoo as part of the victory tradition.
Some trophies require a lot more physical commitment than a shelf dusting.