

The overall winner is determined by combined performance across various unconventional challenges including flaming logs. Multitasking with fire serves as an excellent distraction from profound physical exhaustion.