

Rigid acrylic degrades and releases toxic monomer vapours upon reaching normal human body temperature.

It makes a terrible beverage.