

316L surgical steel contains 10 to 15 percent nickel by weight.

The secret recipe features the exact ingredient everyone asks you to leave out.