

316L stainless steel is 400 times stiffer than flexible body jewellery polymers.

The eternal battle between a side sleeper and an immovable object ends in defeat.