

Heavy ointments prevent necessary air circulation and create an overly moist environment for bacteria.

Your skin prefers an open window.