

Participating in intense physical contact activities while wearing rigid oral jewelry significantly increases the risk of mechanical trauma. The microphone stand clearly won the wrestling match.