

Prolonged pressure from a rigid metal labret disc against the inner lip causes irreversible gum recession.
Even the toughest tissues eventually pack up and leave town.