

Piercing jewelry made of synthetic materials harbors fewer periodontopathogenic bacteria than steel or titanium.
Smooth surfaces are notoriously hostile to microscopic houseguests.