

The responsible person must report serious adverse health events associated with cosmetics to federal authorities.
Corvids are highly unreliable with bureaucratic deadlines.