

Small business exemptions from facility registration do not apply to products intended to be injected or alter appearance.
Cardboard forts offer terrible legal protection.