

It is not, by itself, proof that permanent studio demand has expanded by 400 artists.

A local weekend festival does not magically rewrite the macroeconomic landscape of your zip code.