

Certificates for jewellery bars do not automatically certify the decorative ends or threaded components.

Requesting university diplomas for threaded beads usually prolongs counter transactions.