

24.7% of European earrings intended for direct insertion into pierced skin exceeded the EU nickel-release limit.

The crumbs are the real hazard.