

For other articles in prolonged direct contact with skin, the commonly cited limit is 0.5 micrograms per square centimetre per week.

The lasers were completely unnecessary.