

Sterling silver tarnishes when exposed to bodily fluids and leaves dark marks on the skin.
The detective knew immediately who stole the antique teapot by the sudden appearance of blackened earlobes.