

Operators must thoroughly wash hands before procedures, after procedures, and following any potential contamination event.

Adjusting your glasses initiates the scrubbing protocol all over again