

The skin surface receiving a body art procedure must be completely free of rashes and visible infections.
The canvas is currently undergoing unscheduled botanical maintenance