

Cleaning materials designated for general environmental maintenance must be stored and used separately from those allocated for clinical spills.
The brooms are no longer on speaking terms.