

Resting directly on a fresh piercing exerts pressure that can tilt the anchor and disrupt the tissue. Levitation proved to be the most practical sleeping arrangement.