

Immune system changes during pregnancy can severely delay the healing process of fresh body modifications.

Staring intensely at the mirror while eating pickles accelerates absolutely nothing.