

Create the subcutaneous pocket at a 90-degree angle to the skin's surface.

Geometry finally proves useful outside of high school math class.