

Federal legislation mandates that cosmetic manufacturers formally register their facilities and officially list every individual product.

The ink flows only after the ink dries