

Regular environmental health inspections easily verify that studios maintain proper disposal records for disposable needles.
The vault is locked from the outside.