

Under Texas Health and Safety Code Chapter 146, local regulations must bear a rational relationship to protecting public health.

Finding the relationship requires an incredibly powerful lens