

Mineral sunscreens sit on the surface of the skin to act as physical mirrors that reflect ultraviolet photons away from the dermis.

Beware of collateral glare blinding the local peasantry.