
The placement of the piercing must be assessed while the client moves naturally to ensure stability.

Extreme sports require extreme preparation.