

Identify underlying structures
before placing marks.

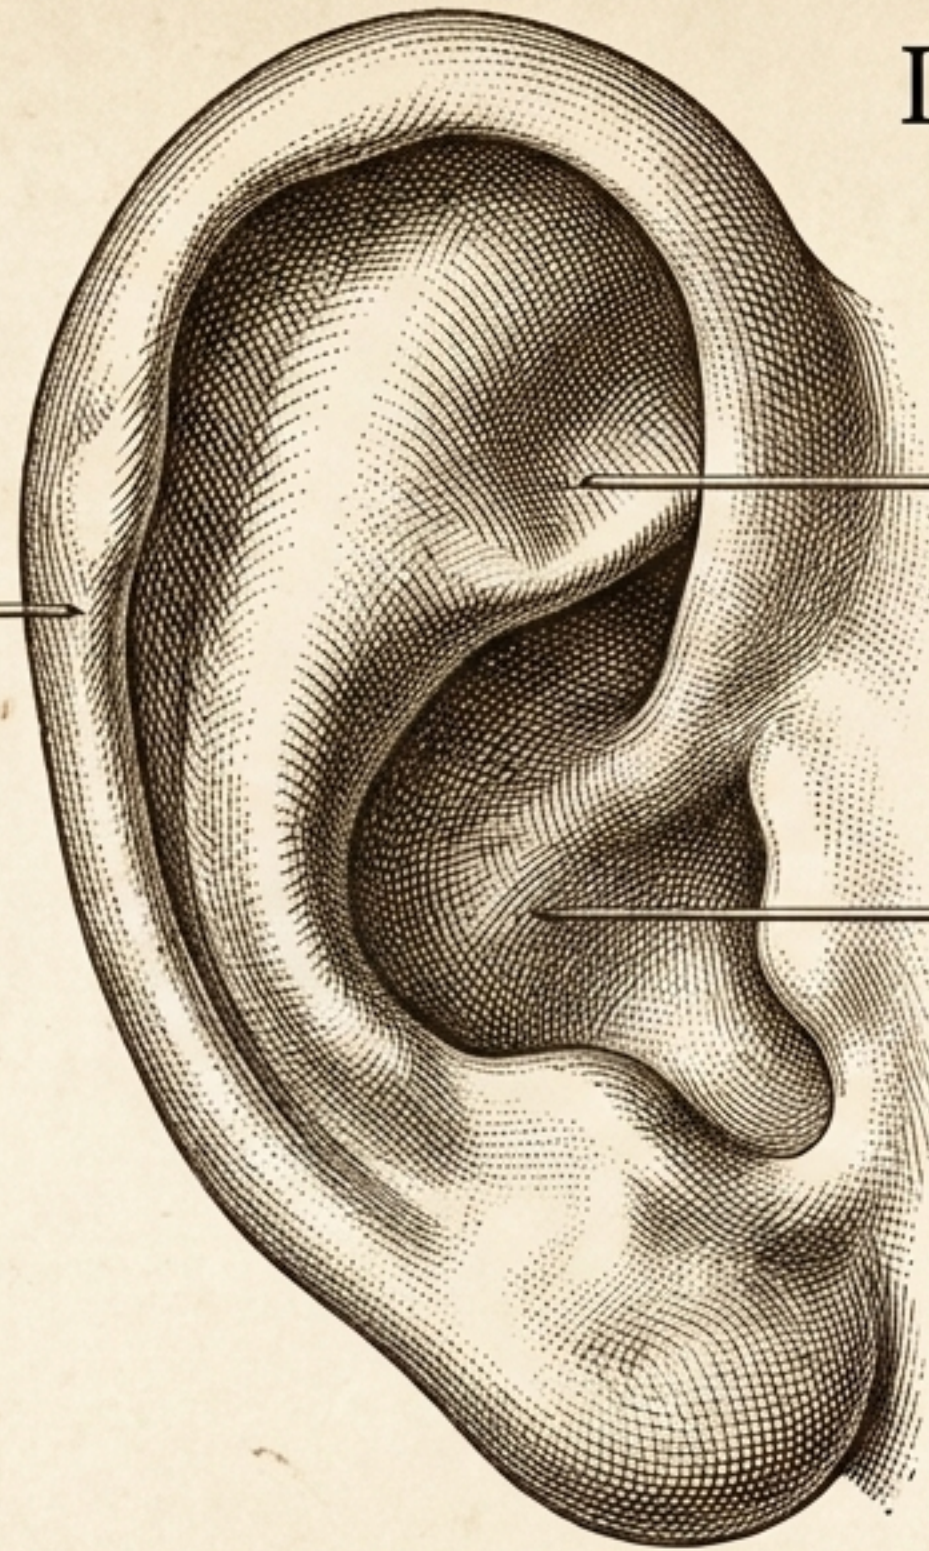

The helix forms
the outer rim.

The flat occupies the middle plateau.

The conch forms
the lower bowl.

Precision placement avoids critical nerves and uneven tissue thickness.

KNOW THE LOCAL TERRAIN