

Pieces labelled implant-grade titanium from online sellers can have nickel concentrations above 5%.

The delivery driver is now stuck to the fridge.