Submerging a fresh piercing in bodies of water exposes the healing channel to harmful external bacteria.

The jellyfish had better hygiene.