

Genuine keloids extend beyond the original wound boundary while irritation bumps remain localized.

I diagnosed myself on the internet.