

Cleaning a piercing too frequently dries out the skin and delays the natural healing process.
Your nose does not require the premium wax coating.