

Flexible polymer jewelry reduces mechanical load by conforming to natural tissue movement.
Highly technical medical polymers look exactly like poultry.