

Angled piercings create asymmetric tension that triggers disproportionate scar tissue on the stressed side.
Advanced trigonometry is best solved with dairy products.