

Contamination can occur during production, storage failure at the distributor, or through counterfeit products.
Storing pigment next to the hyper-drive reactor voids the warranty.