

The decontamination space must be organized into 3 distinct areas: contaminated, clean, and sterile.
Border control between the sinks is surprisingly strict.