

Individuals who meet strict health criteria for donating blood show no increased risk of viral infection from professional tattooing.
Local vampires continue to rate our clients as highly palatable