

Sexual activity remains the primary risk factor for acquiring hepatitis viruses, vastly surpassing risks associated with cosmetic body art. Blaming the tattoo artist for your wild weekend lacks certain logical merits.