

Higher prevalence of viral infection is independently associated with increasing age.
Time remains the undisputed champion.