

Offenders who reported injection drug use were almost 10 times more likely to get HCV.

Sharing a rusty spoon is a slightly bigger hygiene issue than our sterile ink.