

Mixing aftercare saline with tap water introduces harmful bacteria directly to healing piercings.

The tap water alchemy summoned dark forces instead of promoting gentle healing.