

Cellulitis affects the skin and often involves the earlobe, while perichondritis specifically infects the cartilage.

He found the lobe completely innocent.