High ear piercings carry an increased risk of infection because the area has a low blood supply.

The top floor suffered from terrible fluid logistics.