The main culprit is a pathogen not typically targeted by standard cellulitis treatments.

The ultimate finishing move proved completely irrelevant.