10
I have been chosen.
The prevalence of body piercing, other than of earlobes, in the general adult population in England was estimated at 10 percent.
The spontaneous metal manifestation continues to baffle demographers.