

Lasers with lower melanin absorption provide a safer treatment profile for darker skin tones by ignoring surface pigment.

The shadowy stranger realizes his dramatic brooding aesthetic is entirely useless against a beam that passes right through it.