

Specific laser wavelengths must be selected because they are strongly absorbed only by particular target colors like green and blue. The lead singer tries to dodge the beam by aggressively covering himself in contrasting neon body paint.