

Specific laser wavelengths are selected to safely reach varying tissue depths.

Different pigment colors demand highly specific radiation dosimetry.